

Who holds the record of your customers?

Four vendors. Four answers.
Nowhere they all agree.

Eddie J. Smith

Builds the systems, then reads the P&L

SWIPE >

ONE BUSINESS · ONE CUSTOMER RECORD

You bought the CRM. The record still is not yours.

AD PLATFORM

Who called, and what it cost

REVIEW
PROFILE

Your reputation

BOOKING
VENDOR

The
calendar

CRM

Contacts,
and only contacts

?

the one place
it all agrees

PROCESSOR

Who actually paid, and who paid
late

THE PATTERN

Whoever holds the record
sets the terms.

VERTICAL	WHO BECAME THE RECORD	WHAT THEY OWN
Restaurants	Toast	The transaction
The trades	ServiceTitan	The job history
Your business	?	?

ServiceTitan priced its IPO at $71 a share on 2024-12-11 and closed its first day at $101, about $8.9B. Sources: the company’s own pricing release, investors.servicetitan.com; CNBC, 2024-12-12.

Once a business runs
on your record,
you are not a vendor
anymore.

You are the terms.

Which vendor holds
the record of your
customers,

and what happens
the week they change the terms?

If that takes more than one sentence to answer,
that is the whole problem.

